AMERICANS OUT
FULL STRENGTH

All the New York Team on Hand
Except Davis and Fultz to Give Battle to Crack Atlanta
Nine.

ATLANTA, Ga., March 28.—The full strength of the New York American team, as far as could be mustered in the absence of Fultz and "Lefty" Davis, was pitted against the Atlanta aggregation at Piedmont Park this afternoon and a lively exhibition of the national game resulted. The local team had been considerably strengthened since the first game, on Thursday, by the arrival of new players, and while Griffith naturally had the best of it, his men did not have the picnic they enjoyed on Thursday.

Jack O'Connor, the heavy-hitting backstop of the New Yorks, who caught last season through for the champion Pittsburghers, was behind the plate for the first time this season. Griffith announced this morning that he would open the game at the slab himself. He has been less practiced in the Atlanta camp than any of the Gotham twirlers, but proposed to indulge his arm for the first five innings and then turn the game over to Wolf, the Western League youngster, in whom the player-manager believes he has a find. Griffiths form in the box at this stage of the season is entirely problematical. He is not the younger he once was, and July weather, he says himself, is needed to put his pitching wing in shape. On head work Griffith is still the premier twirler of the league, and his speeded benders at irregular intervals can be counted on to more than worry the local hitters. Wolf went in the box for the first time in a New York uniform and from Griffith down the New Yorks were counting on him to come up to the high standard set for the pitching staff.

Of the six pitchers signed up by Griffith, Wolf is the only one whose work is as unknown quantity, and for this reason his performance this afternoon was watched with interest and concern. Tannehill, Chesbro and Griffith make up a trio hard to match in any company, while Howell and Withe have been worked with Baltimore and can be expected to do their part.

Counting on plenty of exercise this afternoon, the team indulged in only a very light practice this morning. Wolf and Griffith kept O'Connor and Neville busy with their benders for fifteen minutes, after which the manager took his place behind the slab and criticized the playing of the team. Griffith was a better speed at second than he started out with, and Griffith is counting on him to eclipse his record of last season in the field and at the bat. Herman Long is the only member of the team on to catch last season's heavy-hitting ball this afternoon the veteran shortstop will not work in the game. He was missing from the team of last season, but Conroy is working like a Trojan at third, giving plenty of ginger to the infield.

Neither Griffith nor Wolf counted on exciting themselves in the game, and the manager wants his infield and outfield to get all the practice possible. "I have no idea of having a beating," he remarked this morning, "if it can be helped, and I will put on the team all right, but I will not be behind. I want my men to win out by hitting and I believe they can do the trick. The team is in good shape, and I am counting on some spectacular hitting this afternoon."

The batting order of the two teams was as follows:

New York: Taylor, 2b; Keeler, 1b; McFarland, cf; Williams, 3b; Grubner, ss; Conroy, 3b; O'Connor, c; Griffith and Wolf, p Craig and Hall, p.

M'PADDEN WAS TARGER'S BIGGEST

Chicago Feather-Weight Had Little Trouble in Outpointing
the Brooklynite in Ten-Round
Bout in Detroit Last Night.

DETROIT, March 28.—Benny Yanger, the Chicago feather-weight, has still a clean record. He met and defeated Hugh McPadden, the Brooklynite, in a ten-round bout in this city last night. The decision was well earned by Yanger.

He had clearly the better of every round after the first. Slier's decision was hoisted by some of the McPadden partisans, but there was no reason for the demonstration. Yanger was unmarked after the fight, while McPadden's nose was bleeding freely and his body showed the effect of Yanger's punishment. McPadden was in distress several times. He hung on in clinches repeatedly. Yanger forced the fighting throughout. From the first McPadden's stomach was Yanger's objective point and it was the blows he sent to this point that brought him the decision.

In the first round McPadden sent one hard left to the Chicago man's jaw. In the second, the Chicago man started the blood from McPadden's nose. McPadden was hanging in the clinches before the bell sounded the end of the third round. It was all Yanger's fight after that, but when the tenth round started Yanger evidently intended to try to score a knockout. He rushed at McPadden and forced him about the ring in every direction. Yanger kept his left open in his eagerness and McPadden landed several hard blows, but Yanger was strong enough to make them very effective.

JIMMY STONE TOO
CLEVER FOR NADEAU.

BOSTON, Mass., March 28.—Jimmy Stone, the 115-pound fighter of the Avonlea A. C. of New York, was awarded the decision over "Young Nadeau" one of the best 115-pound boxers in New England, in a ten-round bout before the Lenox A. C. last night. It is the fifth battle Stone has won in this city in less than eighteen months. Nadeau was no match for the clever little New Yorker. Stone jabbed Nadeau repeatedly in the face with his left and landed many stiff rights into his body at close quarters. Nadeau managed to land some good body punches, but they did not have any effect on Stone, because of the latter's good condition. Stone showed cleverness superior to that of any boxer seen in this city for a long time. Stone will be matched to box Chester Goodwin in a few days.

GARDNER NO MATCH
FOR CHARLEY SIEGER.

(Special to The Evening World.)
PHILADELPHIA, March 28.—Gus Gardner was defeated by Charlie Sieger, of Hoboken, in a six-round bout last night. Gardner, who was formerly a janitor at the Caledonia Club, of this city, has evidently mistaken his calling and should return to his old job. While he was not knocked out, he was the other four he was easily outclassed. The bout altogether was somewhat disappointing. Sieger, a heavy-hitter, after his man and landed repeatedly in the stomach and over the heart, occasioning a fainting spell in Gardner's jaw. The latter contented himself with hitting in clinches, but his blows had little effect on the local man, but he rallied and managed to stay the limit.

BIGGEST COLT AND SMALLEST JOCKEY AT SHEEPSHEAD BAY.

Water Pansy, the Horse
Is More than Sixteen Hands High — The Jockey, Henry Horner,
Weights Only 56
Pounds.

"When two extremes meet, look out for trouble," is an old saying. A giant race horse and a pigmy jockey at Sheepshead yesterday gave the lie to it. Both rider and thoroughbred were on the most friendly terms.

Water Pansy is the name of the big racer. He is the largest two-year-old in training. At the present time he is sixteen hands three inches high, and he is still growing!

Perched on his back was Henry Horner, a jockey in embryo, weighing, with clothes, sweater and a large smile, just fifty-six pounds! Like Water Pansy, he is in a class all by himself. He is the lightest rider in America.

Jockey and horse are in charge of "Jack" Joyner. The latter has nearly thirty head of thoroughbreds under his care, the majority of which are two-year-olds. All are youngsters of promise, several are high-class, while a few are "top saw-yeas." In the string are one or two youngsters that will make a great record this season, trainers say. In their yearling trials they showed "form" much above the ordinary.

Water Pansy will not race early. He is too big and awkward just now. He has outgrown much of his strength, and will be allowed to develop more before he is asked to face the starter. When he is asked to exercise he is like a good-natured schoolboy out on a lark—he jumps, kicks and "bucks" for the pure fun of it. When in full motion he has a big stride. If he should develop and mature rapidly, the same as he has grown in height, he will prove to be a great horse, "for a good big horse can always beat a good little horse."

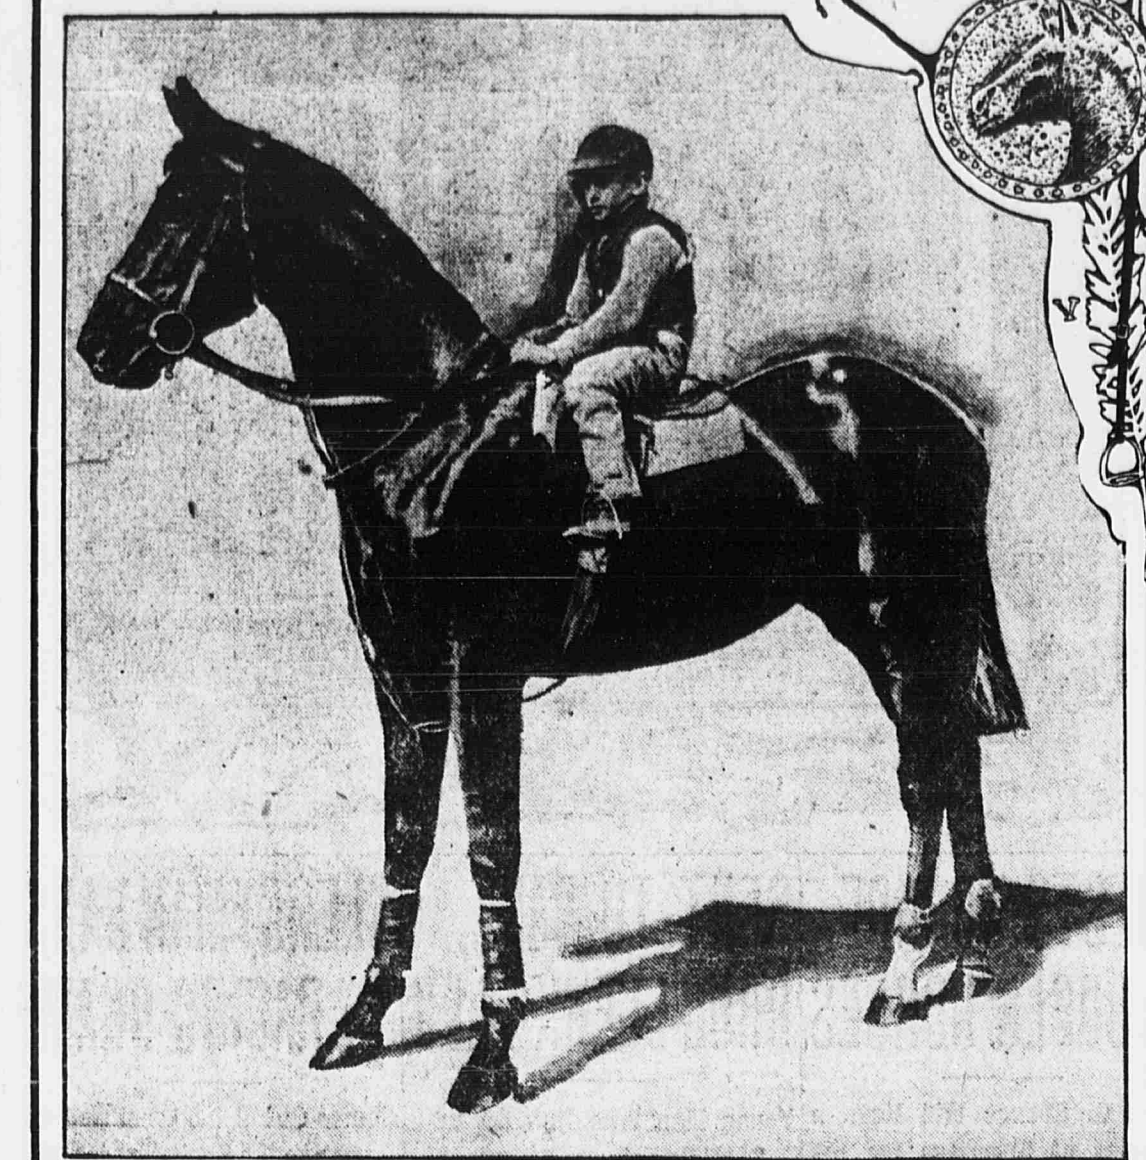

That has been demonstrated time and again, once when Troubadour and the Bard met at Monmouth Park years ago. Both were great horses. Troubadour, a big horse, was able to stride further than the Bard. The result was that Troubadour beat his little rival when it came to a question of strength.

Midget Horner is under contract to ride for Joyner until he becomes of age. He has been less than a year in the saddle, but shows all the ability of a first-class rider. Joyner says he is one of the best boys he ever taught to ride.

WALSH TO TRY FOR 220-
YARD MARK TO-NIGHT.

Twenty-second Games of Twenty-third Regiment Will Be Held in Brooklyn.

The Twenty-third Regiment of Brooklyn will hold their twenty-second games to-night at the armory, Bedford and Atlantic avenues. A programme of twenty-four events (twenty-one track and three field) will be held. In addition to these contests, three interesting exhibitions are carded. The first is a 220-yard race, in which the world's record at 220 yards on a track with one turn, holder of the Metropolitan championship at this distance, will try with good prospects to break the world's indoor record.

BOWLERS AGAIN PASS
900 SCORE IN GAMES.

Fidelias II. and Centrals Will Probably Roll in Finals Next Week.

Just two more nights of preliminary bowling games remain in The Evening World Tournament, which is being rolled at Amann & Triess's alleys. Fifty-fifth street and Third avenue. Last night only three teams rolled, but two of them managed to get above the 900 mark, and the big crowd that was on hand saw some great sport.

The Centrals of Brooklyn started the ball rolling and scored 907, which will likely put them in the finals. E. Marquis and Sheridan both got over the 200 mark, the former scoring 221 and the latter 202.

The Puritans fell down badly and made but 775. Next came the Fidelia No. 2 team and they came within a few points of beating the score made by the first team of the same club. The ever popular Kippel, who has had the tournament in charge, scored 217 and was cheered to the echo for his good work.

TRIAL SPIN WAS POSTPONED.

GLASGOW, March 28.—The Shamrock III. will not have her first trial spin to-day after all.

When the time came for the trip a gale was blowing, and Capt. Waring decided that he would not risk damaging the challenger's new sails.

Weather conditions permitting, the trial will come off Monday.

The mainsail of the boat was set for the first time yesterday, and though loose, nevertheless appeared to be a magnificent specimen of sailmaking. It was a little short on the spars, but not enough to matter. The challenger's sails were stretched yesterday, and both she and Shamrock I. had their mainsails stretching for a while.

With the racing spars and sails aboard, the new boat came exactly to the designed load line. Designer Fife is jubilant over the manner in which the boat has exceeded expectations in coming up to the plans. The racing sails, which are of American make, are said to have cost $2,000.

SPORTING NEWS BRIEFS.

The Long Island Automobile Club will hold a run to-morrow from Brooklyn to Roslyn and return. The start will be at 9 o'clock in the morning.

As is usual whenever J. V. Rapp and Dr. Walter G. Douglas meet in any contest at the New York Athletic Club, a large crowd saw them cross each other last night in the tournament for the pool championship of the club. Mr. Rapp pocketed only 44 of the 110 shots to Dr. Douglas's 100.

Dr. Savage's girls' basketball team defeated the Barnard freshmen team on Wednesday by 8 points to 2. Miss Florence Clark, captain of the winning team, did the star work of the game.

YALE PLAYS
FORDHAM HERE.
Evenly Matched College Teams
Meet Before Big Crowd at Fordham.

(Special to The Evening World.)

FORDHAM, March 28.—Fordham opened the baseball season here to-day with Yale. Owing to the closeness of the result of the game last year, which Yale won in the final inning by a score of 3 to 1, a large crowd was present.

When Umpire Golden called the game, both the grand stand and the bleachers were filled to their capacity. Supporters of Yale were many and were willing to be even money on the result of the game.

Curtin, Fordham's second baseman, did not play owing to a severe "charley horse" in the left leg. Capt. Keane came in from center field and played second base. Robertson, who received a slight injury during the past week, was on hand to cover the initial base. Robertson is Fordham's heaviest hitter and was expected to do good stick work to-day. Doehner, who had a record of 99 strikeouts in ten games last year, was selected to do Fordham's twisting. Patton was in the box for Yale.
